

"Whose life is it? The unspoken disaster"

Organized by Dr. Olga Amengual

(Division of Rheumatology, Endocrinology and Nephrology, Graduate School of Medicine)

Friday July 24 12:00

Igakubu Kanrito Daikaigishitsu

(ground floor, main entrance of the Graduate School of Medicine)

(医学部管理棟大会議室)

by Hiroko Kobayashi, MD, PhD

Associate Professor

Department of Gastroenterology and Rheumatology.
Fukushima Medical University School of Medicine,
Fukushima, Japan

The first part of the seminar will consist in a 30-minute lecture by Dr. Kobayashi.

"She will talk about how women and men have made difficult decisions during a major natural disaster. However, earthquake is not the only disaster, and everybody, especially females, must accept the probability of having any big trouble in their lives. Dr. Kobayashi would like to encourage female doctors and researchers to keep making decisions throughout their lives and to respect their choices whatever they made during hard times"

After, all participants are invited to join us for lunch and actively participate in the discussion.

A lunch box will be provided free of charge to participants who have registered in advance

Deadline for registration: Tuesday, July 21 申込み期限：7月21日（火）

Participants who have not pre-registered are welcome to join the seminar but no lunch box will be provided.

Lunch box registration: please contact by e-mail (in English or Japanese) to Olga Amengual: olgaam@med.hokudai.ac.jp or Kaoruko Shimizu: jyoseisien1@huhp.hokudai.ac.jp