

“Gender in the Global Research Landscape”

Tips on Global Networking and increasing international coauthored research papers

FResHU supports the international and interdisciplinary research collaboration to strengthen women's career advance. This seminar will focus on Elsevier recent report: “The Gender in the Global Research Landscape”, an evidence-based examination of research performance worldwide through a gender lens, and case studies from winners of our WinGS Global Networking Award. We will also discuss and share ideas on women global networking. Feel free to join us!
